$1.4 Million in Scholarships Earned by Keith Country Day Students

ROCKFORD, IL – Twenty-three Keith Country Day School seniors have amassed $1,478,600 in college scholarships according to Cindy Hill, Keith college counselor.

Considered one of the area's top college preparatory schools for more than 93 years, the class of 2009's impressive total marks the eighth consecutive year a graduating class of less than 35 students totaled more than 1 million dollars in scholarships.

"We are so proud of this class," said Head of School, Betty Giesen. "They've worked very hard this year and I'm sure will continue to excel in college."

Nationally, the class of 2009 is the largest in recent history. Some of the schools Keith's graduating class will be attending this fall include Georgetown University, Williams College, Brigham Young University, DePaul University and Marquette University.

Keith Country Day School is an independent, nonsectarian, college-preparatory school. Located on a 15-acre campus overlooking the Rock River, Keith serves students from age three through grade 12 from the Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin area. The school is a member of the National Association of Independent Schools and fully-accredited by the Independent Schools Association of the Central States and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
